Message from the President

I am proud to report that we are coming off a very strong year and are looking forward with energy, enthusiasm and optimism. The possibilities and potential that lie ahead are infinite.

Before propelling forward, I would like to express my gratitude to all who made the 2017–18 school year a resoundingly successful chapter in the history of The John Carroll School. From the opening of school through graduation and final exams, our dedicated faculty and staff were committed to the education and well-being of our students. Our parents, families, alumni and network of advocates worked as partners to support John Carroll and place our students at the center of all we do. And our students infused our campus with vitality and promise every day. Together, we stand strong, focused and committed to a vibrant path forward for John Carroll.

Like this issue of Connections, the John Carroll community is rich and replete with stories that exhibit our faith, reflect our culture, give meaning to our accomplishments and illustrate the remarkable impact of our nearly 9,000 alumni. Indeed, John Carroll has a story to tell, and every Patriot has his/her unique story. We will be bringing you more of these stories in the months ahead.

The forging of our future is an unending journey. Our students are graduating in a time of rapid and dynamic change. Innovation and technology are the norms, not the anomalies. Our Patriots will work and live in a diverse, global environment unlike any before. Thus, it is imperative that our course of study and instructional methods evolve to prepare our graduates for the future. We are boosting our STEAM offerings, expanding our St. Joseph Program and welcoming our inaugural class of Carroll Scholars. As part of our overall investments in modern learning environments, renovations continue to upgrade our science labs. Students will begin to see subtle changes in our library as it evolves to a more functional Media Center. We are also taking great care to strengthen our culture of civility and security. Recently, The John Carroll School became a Civility Alliance Partner, with the Harford County Public Library, as part of the campaign to practice respect, restraint and responsibility throughout the county. And as promised, we are on track with the campus security investments announced in the spring. I'd like to especially thank our Parent Association, whose generosity has been so vital to our progress in this area.

In the year ahead, our academic excellence will again be complemented by an extraordinary showcase of talent on our stage and in our studios. I encourage you to take in our students' performances and displays. You will be astounded by their talents. Equally impressive, our Patriots will again compete against traditional rivals and regional opponents in 21 varsity sports. There's nothing like an afternoon game or an evening under the lights to boost school spirit.

As we move forward, I welcome all our new Patriots, their parents and our new faculty, staff and coaches to the community named for Archbishop John Carroll – a Catholic leader and true American Patriot. Together with our returning Patriots, families and alumni, we will share the milestones in the years to come and build the future of the school. And to our most recent graduates, the memorable Class of 2018, I wish you the best of luck, courage and confidence as you build your path forward.

Again, thanks to all for your continued support. I am looking forward to working together to make 2018–19 another great year for John Carroll.

Special Events

Spring 2018 zipped by, filled with events and activities including:

Fashion Show – It may have been postponed by weather, but when it finally came to pass it was a blast! The seniors really strutted their stuff and had an "ab fab" time.

March Madness – This all-new campaign to support the Annual Fund was a slam dunk! Great job by the sophomores (class of 2020) on taking home the title by raising the most money. They enjoyed a pizza party and dress-down day as reward for their efforts. Thank you to everyone who participated!

Grandparents Day – It was another full house of Nanas and Pops for our annual Grandparents Day on April 18th. Our guests enjoyed lunch, a musical performance and best of all, an afternoon spending time with their favorite Patriots!

JC Bids Farewell to Two Beloved Patriots

On Wednesday, June 6, 2018, The John Carroll School community gathered together to celebrate and honor the legacy of Mr. Gary Scholl who was retiring as a full-time employee after 44 years!

Over the years, Gary has served The John Carroll School as a teacher, coach, Dean, Assistant Principal, and even two times as an Interim Principal. Gary started working at JC as a history teacher back in 1974.

During his tenure, Gary won numerous championships as a wrestling coach and served on a number of vital committees for the school. The Morning Star PowWow, created by Gary nearly 20 years ago to share his love of the Native American culture, has become one of the largest gatherings of indigenous people on the East Coast. His impact on both the students and the staff of our school and the community has been undeniable. Known for his wisdom and student-centered approach for learning, Gary will be missed by all. Fortunately his legacy will continue as Gary will be continuing to teach Anthropology part time and work in a mentoring role with younger teachers and coaches.

On behalf of the entire JC Community, we want to wish Mr. Scholl an enjoyable retirement from full time work and thank him for all his contributions and for being a true Patriot.

For more than three decades, Mrs. Carol Heflin has served and cared for John Carroll students and their families.

Over 31 years ago, Mrs. Heflin started her JC journey when she was hired as the Director of Enrollment by long-time John Carroll Director of Guidance, Mr. Bernie Mullin. Carol eventually found her way to the Guidance Department and faithfully served our students and their families for many years as both a guidance counselor and the department chair. In addition to these roles, Carol taught Math early in her JC career and was very active in the Music Ministry program for many years. She also spent many summers dedicated to JC's Summer Enrichment Program for incoming freshmen. Recently, Carol made tremendous contributions to developing our St. Joseph's program to ensure all students receive the services they need to be successful.

Last spring, Carol received not one, but two well-deserved awards. She received the Ann Drummey Service Award in recognition for her constant service to the school, and she was selected by the students as the 2018 Educator of the Year for her tireless dedication and commitment to John Carroll and each and every one of her students. The John Carroll School community is incredibly grateful for the many years of services given by Mrs. Heflin and we wish her all the best in her retirement.

Renovations underway this summer in the St. Joseph classrooms.

Program Spotlight: St. Joseph Program Expands 2018-19

Since 1990, John Carroll has supported students with documented learning differences by helping them establish and work towards personal goals. In 2015, the St. Joseph Program was formalized to meet the growing needs of these students. One of the key components of the program is the Success Skills Class, which is open to all freshmen and sophomores to make the transition to high school go more smoothly. Classes are limited to 10 students and offer tutoring as well as customized strategies to improve skills in organization, note-taking, researching, writing, test-taking and more. For the upcoming year, students in the program can look forward to:

- Upgraded spaces including a dedicated testing room and a tutoring/discussion room that will greatly enhance opportunities for customized support.
- The addition of a new learning specialist, Kelly Roiy, who has 10 years of experience and is credited with building the DePaul Program at Mount St. Joseph into a model for other schools.

Mrs. Ann Drummey leads the St. Joseph Program with assistance from Dr. Paul Lazor. She says, "This program has seen tremendous growth since its inception and has evolved every year as we have adapted its framework to stay on pace with technology and the curriculum of other classes. We are dedicated to helping each student realize his or her personal best, and we are especially excited for what 2018-19 will bring."

Charting New Courses

As part of its focus on updating curriculum to reflect today's modern learning needs, JC is offering six new courses this year:

Two new AP courses, bringing the total of AP courses offered to 19, with an additional 30 Honors level classes

AP Seminar. Our new Carroll Scholars will be starting off their voyage towards earning their AP Capstone Diplomas by taking a very rigorous AP Seminar class as their freshman year Social Studies. They will be asked to analyze and evaluate information to craft and communicate evidence-based arguments on topics ranging from History to Geography to Culture and even modern day political issues. At the end of the year, students will have a multi-faceted AP assessment which will include a written AP test, an Individual Research-Based Essay and Presentation as well as Team Project and Presentation.

AP Computer Science Principles. This course offers a multidisciplinary approach to teaching the underlying principles of computation, including aspects of programming, abstractions, algorithms, large data sets, the internet, cybersecurity concerns and computing impacts. AP Computer Science Principles also gives students the opportunity to use current technologies to create computational artifacts for both self-expression and problem-solving.

Two New FLEX (Financial Literacy & Entrepreneurial Exploration) Electives

Now, along with every student being offered a course in Financial Literacy sophomore year, students can also choose from a host of business electives. New courses in Marketing and Accounting have been added to existing classes that include Intro to Entrepreneurial Studies, Intro to Management, Business Law and Economics.

Two New Health and Wellness Electives

As JC continues to broaden its Health and Wellness offerings, students can now select from two very practical and important courses:

Food and Nutrition. Students will explore the science of food and nutrition with regards to health and wellness while also learning the importance of individual choices, safety and meal preparation. Students will learn about integrative nutrition along with dietary guidelines through classroom activities, documentaries, labs and self-directed projects.

Strength and Conditioning. Students will learn about modern strength and conditioning techniques then practice and apply them through class and individual workouts. Students will be challenged to identify and work towards their own fitness goals as well as recognize the important roles nutrition, relationships and overall healthy choices play.

The Arts at JC

The Spring Music Concert on April 13 featured beautiful performances by the Jazz Band, Rock Band and Orchestra along with the choral arts of Bella Voce, JC's mixed a cappella choir.

The Memorial Concert on May 22 honored members of the military, past and present.

Fine Arts night on April 27 showcased exceptional exhibits of student artwork including paintings, drawings, ceramics and more.

A May Spring Dance Concert starred the talented dancers of John Carroll's College Preparatory Dance Program and featured innovative and exciting choreography by Program Director Laura Ward-Moran and guest artist Amanda Thom Woodson.

In March, the renowned JC Theatre Department put on a spring production of Tarzan with a show-stopping set that was absolutely swinging! The show starred Ella Wilson '18, daughter of Kristen Trail Wilson '91 and Marty Wilson '87, and Josh Robinson '19, son of Melanie Meoli Robinson '90.

In Memoriam

Please pray for the souls of these deceased alumni, parents, grandparents and friends who passed away between February 1 and July 20, 2018.

Gayle McAdams

Following a distinguished career in the Carroll County public school system, Gayle came to JC as a vice-principal and fulfilled many roles during the time he was at John Carroll, from 2000–2009. In fact, Gayle contributed to so many different facets of the school that upon his retirement his various duties were too much to be handled by just one administrator and had to be spread out among multiple people. Known for his meticulous preparation and organization (probably a holdover from his time in the Navy), Gayle was also known for his professional demeanor as well as being a friendly lunchroom companion. Gayle was also committed to Catholic schools serving those in need, and during his time at JC he established a partnership with Archbishop Borders school in East Baltimore. Gayle will be fondly remembered and missed by all at JC who were fortunate enough to work with him.

In Memoriam Policy: Connections will only publish information provided directly to alumni@johncarroll.org to ensure we are sharing the most accurate information possible.
